Roosevelt is to be offered in the coming contest over Mr. Eno's estate as proof that he was sane at the time he made his last will. The Pinchot brothers. who have long been ardent supporters of the Colonel, are suing with other heirs at law to set aside Mr. Eno's last will giving the bulk of his $15,000,000 estate to charity. Previous wills executed by Mr. Eno made more generous allowances for the children of his sister." Mrs. Pinchot.

The testimony, which was filed in the Surrogate's Court yesterday, was taken at Saratoga Springs before ex-Senator Edgar T. Brackett as referee, in behalf of the executors who are seeking to have the last will probated. Under this will Columbia University receives the residuary bequest, valued at about $7,000,000. The witness was Osgood H. Shepard, secretary of the Saratoga Golf Club, who was an intimate friend of Mr. Eno for three years prior to his death, during which time Mr. Eno spent his summers in Saratoga, where he had a cottage. Mr. Shepard testified that during this eriod he met Mr. Eno frequently at the Eno cottage, or the cottage of a Mrs. Fuller, or at the Saratoga Golf Club. They discussed national and international affairs, and Mr. Eno spoke on them "with great intelligence." the witness said. They spoke of politics and the tendency toward socialism, "which Mr.

Eno seemed especially down on, like my-self," said the witness.
"Did you ever discuss woman suf-frage," asked Clarence V. Kilmer, who onducted the examination in behalf of the executors.

"Yes. He said it was a 'damn fool thing." He said he was only interested in the subject as the women were mak-
